Hafi trio scrub Sr. & Jr. built to the needs of indian working conditions, in particular to the problems faced in industrial shop floor like, removal of stubborn stains / muck, accumulated over a period of time as is typically found in heavy industrial establishments. The three ideally positioned brushes, driven by a standard capacitor, 'hi-torque' motor with reverse, forward & opened switch for directional cleaning can cover a large area with remarkable ease. Power is transmitted to the brushes through belt and pulley drive. For wet scrubbing, a solution tank allows free flow of detergent water to the centre of brushes and the detergent flow is effectively controlled by a hand lever ideally located. The unit can find applications for cleaning of concrete, marble, granite and industrial floors. Trio Scrub Sr. Can also do heavy scrubbing operations with great ease as on Railway Stations, Railway Yards EMU Sheds, etc. Each and every aspect of these machines have been designed with the benefit of years of experience in the industrial environment and their performance speaks for itself..
